Key grammar:

The first conditional

We use the first conditional when we talk about the future result of an action.

If + Present Simple, will/won't + verb

If I lose my anorak again, my parents will be angry.

If we're lucky, we'll beat them in the final.

If he doesn't take a map, he'll get lost.

Complete the sentences. Use the first conditional:

1. If we destroy (destroy) our forests, The Earth's climate will change (change).
2. If you ___ (come) to the party, you ___ (have) a great time.
3. If she ___ (send) me an email, I ___ (not answer) it.
4. If I ___ (be) nervous, I ___ (not sing) very well.
5. If you ___ (not wear) a coat, you ___ (be) cold.
6. If my brother ___ (get) home soon, he ___ (help) me with my homework.
7. If Rosie ___ (not finish) her project, the teacher ___ (be) very angry.
